OSAMA BIN LADEN, look at my eyes and know this: I swear by Allah, Who is Almighty God, that you will never see Paradise, the soft light of Heaven reserved for your innocent victims, but only the dark and stormy place at Cosmos' end where Chaos reigns!

There, shall your Sensorial Self (your soul, should you possess one), languish in unimaginable agony until even It is finally consumed by the Eternal Fire. For you have come 'round on the Great Wheel of Life full circle and not yet learned the lesson. And you never will. In the history of the world there has never been such a single act of utter cruelty in which so many helpless citizens were purposefully murdered! Defenseless men, women and children – all. A real man would have attacked the military.

You are no true follower of Islam. However, you do bear a strong resemblance to Adolph Hitler who, were he living, no doubt would be in awe of your barbarity. I am almost certain you are the Fuhrer reincarnate, with your pathological hatred of Jews and Americans. And, like Hitler, you are probably a self-loathing, closet Jew. So why don't you do the world a big favor – and kill yourself! You are a mad dog and a coward. And mad dogs must be put down, as soon you shall be. Death will come swiftly, when it comes. Your suffering in this life will be brief, but interminable in the next.

* Both Bible and Qur'an (Koran) state: "The knower knoweth," and I know the horror that hath no end that awaits you in the Great Beyond. This is a gift of "vision" bestowed upon one who has lived the great range of life, perhaps too many times.

I would like to believe that this Sense of Kismet might, in some small way, bring comfort to the grieving people whose lives you have ruined, who have lost loved ones. Yet I know it cannot be... only time will somewhat ease the pain, console the inconsolable.

* Remember, however, that the Paths to God are many and varied, since not all travel the familiar and worn road. But this I promise you! The Fate of Osama bin Laden's Soul is sealed, as I swear the Souls of us all – and our dearly departed – are, and will be, Eternally Sealed in the Great Archives of the Akashic Records of Heaven (into which Edgar Cayce often peered to glimpse the future), and in what the Christian Bible calls "The Book of Life," until the Day of Judgement.

To every Jew, Christian and Muslim: When Comes the Great and Glorious One all eyes will see but One, and only One shall rule.... He, Who is the Light of this world; Star-Traveler or God, only He will halt the carnage. And then every religion shall be One....

Osama bin Laden, this you well know: "What Is Written In The Mind Of Allah (God) Will Be And Must Come To Pass." But it will not be as you expect. Should I die before this conflict ends, in whatever manner, take this as yet another sign of your ultimate defeat at the hands of America and her Allies – and the One True God! On that day, you – and the others of your ilk – will remember my words.
"SO IT IS WRITTEN."

ADDENDA FROM STARGAZER 2007 (p. 8):

"Osama bin Laden, or more probably his remains, will be brought back to the US to be tried (posthumously) for the worst warcrime in the history of the world!"

...and STARGAZER 2008 (p. 25):

"There will be a very violent and fatal denouement to the bin Laden problem."

OSAMA BIN LADEN

DEAD MAN WALKING

And so Osama bin Laden is now shark chum. Still, the whole thing seems a little, er, fishy

Hide in the kitchen, hide in the hall

Ain't gonna do you no good at all
— Tweed resident Elvis Presley
(from Stuck On You)

Osama bin Laden is dead? You sure? I thought I saw him running for the NDP in Quebec on Monday night.

Guy with a beard and crazy, crazy eyes. Be more specific?

OK, maybe that was the ex-Communist karate kid in the riding of Pontiac or another of Jack Layton's new accidental MPs from la belle province.

So, my mistake. Osama bin Laden must really be dead.

Or is he? Rumours ricochet about the Internet faster than Navy SEALs bullets in that compound in Pakistan.

No wonder. When the witnesses to his burial are a few U.S. sailors and some lucky sharks licking their chops, it's like chum to conspiracy buffs.

Not that they need much blood and entrails to get their juices flowing.

After all, they know for a fact George W. Bush flew those planes on 9/11, the CIA shot Kennedy, Elvis lives, fluoride is making us zombies, the lunar landings were staged in Hollywood, Toronto once had a hockey team and, oh, yes, the world ends next year.

Bin Laden is raw meat for these people.

Their fever rose when websites on Monday ran a photo of the creep's corpse.

It was fake, of course — a combo of bin Laden in happier times and some dead guy.

Aha. Such trickery only proves bin Laden still lives, right?

Don't ever take your eyes off me
Not even for a minute

— Elvis (Animal Instinct)

On Tuesday, Barack Obama was debating whether to release his own photos of bin Laden's body.

It won't quiet the kooks. They'll say it too was faked and the government-industrial-media monolith conspired to concoct DNA and other evidence.

Hockey fans in Philadelphia hold a U.S. flag in celebration of Osama bin Laden's death. Conspiracy theorists, however, might want to look closer.

They will point out the White House claims only 99.5% certainty they killed the right evil schmuck. What of the other 0.5%?

Is bin Laden trying to freeload at Elvis' hideout in Tweed? That would be a big mistake. The King don't mess with monsters. A kick upside the head with a blue suede shoe would finish the job, if the Navy SEALs did not.

One theory says bin Laden was killed years ago — by missile or kidney disease — and his death was covered up so we'd have someone to hate. As if there's any shortage.

Others insist he's alive and well today, including such highly credible sources as the Pakistani arm of the Taliban.

Give me a cave up in the mountain

Or a shack down by the sea
— Elvis (Anyplace is Paradise)

The Taliban may be madmen, but they're not stupid. They know how to feed the loonies.

And I suppose it is possible the Pakistani who tweeted the raid in real time was an infidel plant.

The video of explosions at the compound might have been shot at Paramount.

And those photos of Obama, Hillary Clinton and company allegedly watching the action looked like a Super Bowl party.

After the NDP won Quebec, nothing surprises anymore.

Which brings me back to: Is bin Laden really dead?

My psychic friend Anthony Carr called me at 3 a.m. Monday to tell me he predicted it.

Sure enough, his 2008 book Star-gazer said, "There will be a very violent and fatal denouement to the bin Laden problem."

And: "You are a mad dog and a coward and mad dogs must be put down, as soon you will be."

And "death will come swiftly."

What Tony lacked in details and dates, he made up in gusto.

It cinches it for me.

Bin Laden's dead. Toast. Kaput. Belly up. Gone to join Hitler, Stalin and whoever invented cell-phones.

"But there's something fishy about the whole 'buried at sea' thing," Carr tells me.

Uh-oh. Just in case, keep your eyes peeled for a nervous guy with a beard and crazy, crazy eyes, mumbling Elvis tunes.

I've been travelling over mountains
Even through the valleys, too
Baby, trying to get to you
